Hi Sarah,

I have been getting calls and emails about the status of SAFE centers reopening. I know they are closed because of the current situation but many ask why since even before the pandemic, there was little contact and the employees wore PPE.

I have a case that is quite unique. A resident is selling her home and escrow will be closing soon. She has paint cans that are not empty and wanted to know what she should do with them.

I would appreciate any information I can pass along to those inquiring about the reopening of these centers.

Best,

Myrka Martinez
